Persistent organic pollutants (POPs Regulation)
Compliance Information

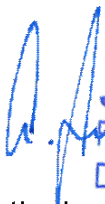

Supplier Name: Jauch Quartz GmbH
Address: In der Lache 24

Persistent organic pollutants (POPs) are organic substances that persist in the environment, accumulate in living organisms and pose a risk to our health and the environment. They can be transported by air, water or migratory species across international borders, reaching regions where they have never been produced or used. The continuous release of POPs into the environment has been a serious concern of the European Union since Regulation (EC) No. 850/2004 of the European Parliament and of the Council on POPs entered into force in 2004. After several amendments and further regulatory developments, the POPs Regulation was recast as Regulation (EU) 2019/1021 of the European Parliament and of the Council in 2019. The Regulation has subsequently been amended, including by Regulation (EU) 2025/843 and Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2025/1930.

Jauch Quartz GmbH, as a supplier of frequency control products (FCPs), is aware of its responsibilities for protecting the environment and human health. We have been tracking updates to prohibited and restricted substances listed in the POPs Regulation and verifying the presence of any such substances in our products.

Based on the information we have verified, we declare, to the best of our knowledge, that our products are in compliance with Regulation (EU) 2019/1021, as amended by Regulation (EU) 2025/843 and Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2025/1930, and do not contain substances subject to the prohibitions listed in the Annexes to the POPs Regulation. We continue to follow updates to the POPs Regulation and ensure the conformity of our products. This certificate is provided to the best of our knowledge and belief, and based on our current level of knowledge. The signature below verifies that the statements above are valid and accurate.
